

YOUNG HENRYS

“

We had a huge, huge task on us to update a couple thousand records, over the course of a weekend, Jcurve dedicated time to make sure we hit the deadline and everything went without a hitch ...

Matthew Courtenay,
Chief Financial Officer,
Young Henrys.

The idea has always been pretty simple: brew beer our local community would enjoy and be proud to call their own. As much as we've grown, that's remained fundamentally the same, with our community stretching far beyond the geographical. constantly evolving to include like-minded folk throughout Australia, we're united by the values we hold dear: culture, people, and the planet.

“The biggest efficiencies we've seen is the connectivity NetSuite's been able to bring to the organisation, having information on the brew crew's screens, on their iPads real time, we're then getting product off the line straight away and into a warehouse and everything's all interconnected.”

Mann&Noble Group

We had no way of tracking batches in our old system so it was all done on paper. We're now able to track through NetSuite where all of that has gone and we can get that information a lot quicker versus sifting through a filing cabinet.

Rob Harris,
Finance and Operations Director,
Mann & Noble Group.

With Mann & Noble primed to expand its predominantly APAC based business to the US, it was important to shift from a clunky server-based ERP system to a seamless cloud-based platform.

“NetSuite has certainly given us a lot more insightful information, visibility and automation than our old system. Having the scalability of NetSuite is a huge step forward from where we were and gives us a seamless, cloud-based system which will underpin our global expansion efforts.”

ORACLE
NetSuite
Solution Provider Partner

A century-old organisation with origins in the Philippine sugar milling industry. Today it is a holding company with investments in utilities, technology and sustainability sectors. A string of investments led to disparate and manual accounting systems, Pasudeco needed a solution to consolidate reporting across its subsidiaries.

“

We are a more efficient operation thanks to NetSuite ERP, which is resulting in much faster decision-making across the whole organisation.

DJ Jaro,

“What I wanted and needed most from the implementation partner was responsiveness, and Jcurve is excellent at that.”

“

Our mission, as a B Corp certified company, is to make natural, better choices accessible for everyone while driving business success and a positive impact on the world.

Emma Welsh,
Co-founder and Managing Director,
Emma & Tom's.

Determined to forge enduring customer relationships and ensure superior product quality, after almost a decade in business, Australian healthy drinks and snacks producer Emma & Tom's decided to take its entire distribution process in-house.

Emma & Tom's needed a SCM platform that could manage orders from 3,500 customers, delivery with 40 vans and scale to accommodate global expansion, all while maintaining customer service synonymous with its brand. An accounting package was never going to be good enough to conquer the world.

S. Saengcharoen Kolkarn Co. is a B2B company which supplies auto parts to organisations that provide car insurance policies.

“Customisations Jcurve created for S.Saengcharoen included modules for local tax bundling and billing formats, which have helped the finance team report for compliance.”

Our finance team, was using a local accounting system while procurement was using something entirely different. This added unnecessary delays, costs, steps and siloes in our operations.
